

ROLE OF SCHOOL IN DEVELOPMENT OF CHILDHOOD

BCCC-1(CHILDHOOD AND GROWING UP)

Sunita Kumari

(Asst. Prof.)

Vitthal College of Education, ppu, patna

INTRDUCTION

School have very important impact on the continuous and lifelong development of the childhood. Children spend most of their time in school after their family. Children start learning new things in the school environment and start taking part in the new activity with making their teachers as their ideal. Children learn good tradition in the healthy environment of the school. Whereas, if the environment of school is bad and negative the development of children is not proper and it affects their development in negative ways. Therefore school plays very important role in the development of children .

DOMAINS OF DEVELOPMENT

School plays very important role in the development of children in the following ways:-

Physical development:- In school, games and activities are arranged according to the age level of a students, so that the proper physical development of students become possible. In the activities of school it is taken into consideration that all body parts of children become active so that balance in physical development of a student become possible. Therefore P.T. is done during prayer time every day in school.

Cont..

Mental development:- School have very important effects on the mental development of children. In school mental development of child is given more importance and taken into consideration through many mental activities. In these activities some cards with one letter is given to the students and they are said to form a word or sentence from those letters. These all types of mental activities are organised for proper mental development of students.

Cont..

- Emotional development:- In school different types of activities organised by which student not only develop their emotion but also attain the emotional stability. Various types of group and cultural activities are organised in school so that the feeling of mutual cooperation and understanding can develop among the students. In all these types of situation students start showing and controlling their emotions, thus they attain emotional stability.

Cont..

- Language development:- School should organise those types of activity by which student can learn the proper language and pronunciation. For example child assembly, debate competition, story writing, speeches etc. In all these activities linguistic development of student take places.
- Social development:- By the social and cultural activities organised in the school student become aware of the social activities. They learn how to behave with elder and younger ones. All this type of behaviour is refine and develop among the students in the school.

Cont..

- Character development:- Character of teacher is very important for character development of a students. Behaviour of teachers towards students and other teachers, their trust and truth influences the character development of the student very much because teachers are the ideal of their students.
- Creative development:- Students are learn to create different types of things like chart, model and also told to create a new things from waste materials. All these types of activities are learn by the student in the subject of work experience in the school. Therefore school plays a very important part in the creative development of the students.

Cont..

- Educational development:- In any school teaching methods are prepared by the teacher according to the mental level and age level of the student by which teaching learning process become very easy and effective. Educational development is very important aim of the school.
- Development of importance of labour (work):- Development of importance of labour among a student is done by the school. School management and teachers organises many types of activities and after participating in all this activities mental, physical and motor development is accomplished.

CONCLUSION

- By the above stated explanation it became clear that the role of school is very important in the development of child. Beside all these factors some more things related to school help child development like- nature of school management, behavior of teachers and non-teaching staffs towards students, locality of school etc.

